Multiple Emmy Award winner Barry Petersen has covered wars and genocide, interviewed dozens of stars, and talked with several Bosnian War Crimes Tribunal suspects. Barry earned one of his Emmys for reporting the siege of Sarajevo for CBS Sunday Morning. He shared both Peabody and DuPont Awards for being a part of the CBS News Radio coverage of the Tiananmen Square uprising in 1989, and an Edward R. Murrow Award for Sports Writing for a story on baseball coming to Beijing. Barry works for CBS News and makes his home in Denver, Colorado.

Barry Petersen

Jan's Story

Love Lost to the Long Goodbye of Alzheimer's

Jan's Story is a full, rich story of two people—and thousands like them—for whom “forever” suddenly and terrifyingly has an expiration date.

Imagine hearing these words: “She has Alzheimer’s.”

Now imagine that “she” is vibrant, active, loving, healthy... and just 55.

Acclaimed CBS News reporter Barry Petersen writes about hearing the unimaginable: what it meant, what it still means, what he did—and didn’t do—and how this beautiful love story needs to be read by the thousands of families who have already heard that same devastating diagnosis...early onset alzheimer’s.

Barry Petersen is a long-time, award-winning TV journalist who has covered wars, the devastating Asian tsunami, the historic confrontation at Tiananmen Square, the unspeakable deaths in Rwanda, and so much more...but he was not even slightly prepared for what happened to his darling wife, Jan.

PRAISE FOR JAN'S STORY

“This is a love story, a travelogue, a television history...and a stunning, achingly personal journey.... This is the story of life, love, loss and renewal.” —BRIAN WILLIAMS, anchor and managing editor, NBC Nightly News

“As Barry shows in Jan's Story, all of us learn, in time, to accept that our beloveds would wish us to have a second chance at life, just as we would wish that for them. We do that while never forgetting what we once had and cherished... what we once had and lost.”

—KATIE COURIC, anchor and managing editor,
CBS Evening News with Katie Couric

“This is a true story that reads like a novel.”

—DAN RATHER, anchor Dan Rather Reports

“[Barry’s] writing is a love story trapped in a travesty, but one from which we can all learn to heal our hearts.”

—NEWT GINGRICH

“Jan's Story is a must read by every caregiver, family member and well meaning friends.”

Stan Slap has revolutionized work performance for some of the world's biggest, smartest, and fastest companies. His international consulting company, slap, specializes in employee engagement, brand strategy, and management training.

His clients include Oracle, Microsoft, BET, and Warner Music Group. A popular business speaker around the world, Slap lives in San Francisco.

Stan Slap

Bury My Heart at Conference Room B

The Unbeatable Impact of Truly Committed Managers

Popular business consultant Stan Slap offers a life-altering approach to turning managers into unconditionally committed leaders.

The stories about Stan Slap are so remarkable that they seem like myths: He brought a room full of top-level Microsoft managers to tears, leaving them cheering "I'm hurting, too!" After a single speech at Patagonia, the company asked him to join its board of directors. One CEO described him as "Stephen Covey meets Nine Inch Nails." All this from a man who never graduated from business school, college, or even high school.

Bury My Heart at Conference Room B harnesses the awe-inspiring insights of Slap's life-changing management workshops. The book is a powerful tool for creating emotional commitment in managers. That means unchecked, unvarnished devotion to the company. If you've ever witnessed a human being emotionally committed to a cause, you know that discretionary effort is worth more than their financial, intellectual, and physical commitment combined.

Through unexpected case studies and a battle-tested self-assessment program, Slap shows how to help people live their deepest personal values at work, with huge payoffs for the companies that support their engagement.

PRAISE FOR BURY MY HEART AT CONFERENCE ROOM B

"I urge you to follow where Stan Slap fearlessly leads us. He has the answer to making a career in management actually bring you a fuller, richer, better life."

—GEOFF COLVIN, author of Talent Is Overrated

"You have to read Bury My Heart at Conference Room B. Stan Slap covers all the bases. A warm, witty book that will take you and your organization to a better place."

—KEN BLANCHARD, coauthor of The One Minute Manager

"Slap has written the holy grail for companies seeking the most from their managers and for managers seeking the most from their companies. It is fascinating, thought provoking and actionable. This book is not just a "must read" but a "must experience."

Jennifer Vanderbes is a graduate of the Iowa Writers' Workshop and the recipient of numerous awards, including a Guggenheim Fellowship and a New York Public Library Cullman Fellowship.

Her debut novel, Easter Island, was translated into sixteen languages, and her essays and reviews have appeared in the New York Times and the Washington Post. She lives in New York City.

Actor and voice-over artist Renée Raudman is a multi-award-winning audiobook narrator who has performed on film, television, radio, and stage, including as the recurring character Jordon on ABC's One Life to Live.

Jennifer Vanderbes

Strangers at the Feast

A Novel

The critically acclaimed author of Easter Island delivers a gripping, complex, and satisfying drama that unfolds over the course of Thanksgiving Day as two families are connected by a horrific crime.

On Thanksgiving Day 2007, three generations of the Olson family gather. Eleanor and Gavin worry about their daughter, Ginny, an unmarried academic in her thirties with a newly adopted Indian daughter, and about their son, Douglas, who has recently been caught in the imploding real-estate bubble. But Ginny and Douglas, determined to have a perfect holiday, keep their troubles secret, a skill they have learned from their parents.

As old grudges, personality clashes, and a stove malfunction spiral the Olson's holiday into a tense and foodless afternoon, seventeen-year-old Kijo Jackson and his best friend, Spider, set out from the housing projects on a mysterious job. As these two families—one white, one black—head toward a violent and inevitable encounter, Jennifer Vanderbes masterfully lays bare the fraught lives of these fascinating characters and the lengths to which they will go to protect their families.

Peter F. Hamilton was born in Rutland in 1960 and still lives near Rutland Water. He began writing in 1987 and sold his first short story to Fear magazine in 1988. He has also been published in Interzone and the In Dreams and New Worlds anthologies, as well as in several small-press publications. His novels include the Greg Mandel series—Mindstar Rising, A Quantum Murder, and The Nano Flower—and the bestselling Night's Dawn trilogy. Among his most recent novels are Fallen Dragon, Pandora's Star, and the bestselling Judas Unchained.

AudioFile Golden Voice John Lee has narrated audio-books in almost every conceivable genre, from Charles Dickens to Patrick O'Brian, and has won numerous Audie Awards and AudioFile Earphones Awards.

Peter F. Hamilton

The Evolutionary Void

Book Three in the Void Trilogy Series

Peter F. Hamilton concludes the highly acclaimed Commonwealth saga that has unfolded in The Dreaming Void and The Temporal Void.

Thriller writer Ken Follett, author of Eye of the Needle and Pillars of the Earth, calls Peter F. Hamilton “the owner of the most powerful imagination in science fiction.” His novels combine multi-stranded plotting, intriguing characters, fascinating technology, and compelling political machinations to produce epic stories with broad appeal. This book is the eagerly awaited conclusion of a trilogy that has captured the imaginations of readers and reviewers alike.

MARKETING

- Readers eager for the final book in the series: Hamilton's previous conclusion to a trilogy, Judas Unchained, was so well received that it hit #15 on the Wall Street Journal bestseller list and #20 on the New York Times Extended.
- Success of the series: Hamilton toured the United States for publication of The Dreaming Void. Both The Dreaming Void and The Temporal Void were main selections of the Science Fiction Book Club.

PRAISE FOR THE VOID TRILOGY SERIES

“Broad in scope and panoramic in detail.”

—Library Journal ★ Review on The Dreaming Void

“A real spellbinder from a master storyteller.”

—Kirkus ★ Review on The Dreaming Void

“Fusing elements of hard SF with adventure fantasy tropes, Hamilton has single-handedly raised the bar for grand-scale speculative storytelling.”

—Publishers Weekly on The Temporal Void

“[An] SF thriller on a grand scale.”

—Library Journal on The Temporal Void
